Post-COVID-19 Testing Information Gathering

While you are awaiting your test results, it would be a good idea to think about the people you have been in contact with in the past 2 days. Start to write down names and phone numbers of people.

If your test results come back positive, we will need to notify individuals you came into close contact with that may be infected. This will help protect them and their families, and we want to make sure they receive the help they need.

Think about everyone that you have been around 2 days before your symptoms started or if you do not have any symptoms 2 days before your test.

Your COVID-19 test was on __________
If you are experiencing symptoms, they started on: ____________
The date of 2 days prior to your symptoms starting was: ____________

We suggest you get a pad and paper to write down all the people who you've come in contact with, and their contact information.

Here are some ways to help you remember where you were, what you did, and who you were with:
- Go back through your Facebook, Instagram, or twitter accounts and look at your posts.
- Look back at your emails
- Look back at your home and work calendars
- Look back at any receipts you may have
- Look back at your text messages and phone calls
- within the past 2 days

We recommend you start with everyone OUTSIDE of your home first. Provide as much detail as you possibly can.

The people that we need to know about are people that you have been with for 15 minutes or longer and where you were less than 6 feet apart:
